Coral Academy of Science Las Vegas - Nellis Campus - 2018-2019 NSPF Rating - Notice to Parents

Dear wonderful CASLV Nellis Elementary Parents & Families,

As you may already be aware, we are proud to announce that the CASLV - Nellis middle school earned a 5 star rating as measured by the Nevada State Performance Framework for the 2018-2019 school year. We are proud of our middle school teachers, and we are also thankful to the elementary teachers who helped build a strong foundation for them.

Please take note that the CASLV - Nellis elementary school earned a 2 star rating, missing the 3 star mark by less than a mere 2 points. We wanted to ensure that you were fully aware of the main reasons for which we earned that rating. These reasons are listed below. Furthermore, we are implored to share a list of various schools in the surrounding neighborhood along with their star ratings, so that our families are fully informed of educational options (see attached).

Item 1 - Student Attendance/Chronic Absenteeism

Please know that our school rating also depends on a strong level of partnership between parents and school staff regarding overall attendance. Chronic absenteeism plays a large factor in our school rating. If students are absent 10% or more for the school year, points are deducted from that category of our school rating (applies to students enrolled for 91+ days). This includes both excused and unexcused absences. Our new principal and current administration and staff also plans to roll out a new pre-arranged absence policy to ensure that our students are set up for success, even if family/military obligations arise. In the near future, we will be providing you with information and guidance so that this transition goes as smoothly as possible.

Item 2 - Academic Performance on State Tests (SBAC)

Furthermore, our school rating by the state relies on the hard work of our teachers, students, and parents. Our main focus as a school is to ensure that all of our students exude a high level of not only academic achievement, but academic growth as well. This level of achievement and growth is measured by the state mandated test called the Smarter Balanced Assessment Consortium (SBAC), which is administered to students in grades 3-8. The school strives to prepare students for success so that they hit both their proficiency targets and growth targets. With the new leadership structure and more focused academic initiatives to be implemented, our goal is to have significant gains in student achievement and growth.

To all of our parents, families, and teachers, we sincerely appreciate your diligent effort and support for our students and school. We know that, together, we will continue to grow and improve both as a school community and as a family.
